Recurring Programs

Artillery Demonstrations

Date: To Be Determined (at meeting on 16 January 1011)
Time: 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. (Sundays unless otherwise noted)
Location: Eastern Front Visitor Center (Unless otherwise noted)
Fee: Admission to battlefield or valid NPS pass
Type: Artillery Demonstrations
Contact: Randy Watkins, (804)732-3531 x205

The crash of artillery will again echo across Petersburg National Battlefield. Volunteer living historians under the supervision of a certified NPS Historic Weapons Supervisor will fire a minimum of twelve blank artillery rounds from a faithfully reproduced 12 pound Napoleon cannon. Starting with a minimum of ten rounds, the gun detachment will conduct firing demonstrations not less than ten minutes apart as audiences collect until the ammunition is exhausted. Between shots cannoneers demonstrate their drills. As time permit the audience will be invited to take part in non-firing drills and learn the skills of the artilleryman. Visitors are encouraged to come early to be sure to experience the cannon firing. Once ammunition is expended, the gun detachment will continue to drill until 4:00.

Education Programs

What is a Skywatch? A Skywatch is a public viewing of celestial objects through telescopes that have been brought in for the event. The Richmond Astronomical Society and Petersburg National Battlefield will hold several Skywatches in 2011. Members of the Society set up their telescopes for anyone who wants to look at what is visible that night. Some of the telescopes will be commercially made and some will have been hand made by the person who brought it.

Discover the wonders of Virginia's night sky and hear stories associated with the stars. To enjoy this ranger led program, bring a jacket, a flashlight, a telescope if you have one and an optional blanket to lay back and enjoy the sights and sounds of Petersburg at night. The program begins at sunset.

ENVIRONMENTAL CAMPS

Campers will explore the creeks, trees, birds, and bugs that live on Petersburg National Battlefield and will begin to understand the concept of an ecosystem and the dependence on one another. They will learn why the water cycle and water quality is important and what influences there are on them. They will learn that trees help hold soil in place and filter out unwanted sediment to keep water clean. They shade creeks and regulate water temperature for the many aquatic species that need clean, cool water. Many different animals live in the forest near the creeks and ponds of Petersburg National Battlefield. Otters, beavers, deer, herons, salamanders, snakes, frogs, turtles and many others depend on healthy forest creeks and ponds for food, water, homes and protection. For this reason, foresters, hydrologists, geologists, aquatic biologists and many others here at Petersburg National Battlefield work together to manage our creeks and ponds.

To achieve this, campers will don a pair of rubber boots and spend some time in the creek observing, collecting and studying the many living creatures in the creek. They will test water quality and discuss ways to preserve this habitat. They will explore the forest and seek out the bugs and other living creatures here on Petersburg National Battlefield.

Ages for the camp are 8-12 yr olds.

Dates for the Environmental Camps are:

July 5-7 2011 and

July 20-22 2011

Camps are limited to the first 15 campers .The cost for this one day camp will be $15.00 per camper. The camp runs from 9 am to 1 pm each day. . For reservations and further information about the “Environmental Camp” schedule, please contact Petersburg National Battlefield at (804) 732-3531 ext 204.

ARROWHEAD DAY CAMP

Arrowhead Day Camp offers a hands-on approach to science and history as participants sign enlistment papers and prepare themselves for an outdoor adventure. As soldiers, campers will dress in uniform, perform marching drills, build shelters, towers and create flags. As scientists, they will pull on their rubber boots to perform biological water tests in the stream and learn about archeology in the trenches. There will also be plenty of hand-on crafts and project.

Dates for the 2011 camps are:

June 29-July 1, 2011

July 12-15, 2011 (Special 4 day camp for 9-12 yr olds only and will have a fee of $20.00 and is limited to 15 participants)

July 27-29, 2011

August 10-12, 2011

August 17-19, 2011

The fee for “Arrowhead Day Camp” is only $15 per child and each session will consist of a maximum of twenty participants. For reservations and further information about the “Arrowhead Day Camp” schedule, please contact Petersburg National Battlefield at (804) 732-3531 ext 204.
